ICANs—driven by community
supported by agencies

Be inspired by international and national speakers, such as Dr Geoff Mulgan, Adelaide Thinker in Residence, and Dr John Spiering from the Dusseldorp Skills Forum

Be informed by key ICAN partners with expertise in case management and supporting young people most at risk

Be motivated by networking with metropolitan and regional ICAN program providers in South Australia

Learn about new approaches, models and strategies to successfully engage students enrolled in Flexible Learning Options (FLO).

Innovative Community Action Networks (ICANs) are the means through which government, communities and agencies work together, creating opportunities to address student retention issues in their local community, particularly for those most at risk.
